Portfolio Summary

Fusion Active 5 GBP portfolio is suitable for investors who understand that high investment return comes with increased risk of significant losses. Investors in the portfolio should be prepared to sustain risk of considerable temporary capital loss to achieve long-term capital appreciation in line with long-term returns from equity markets. The portfolio is allocated primarily into high growth/high risk assets diversified across types of risk and geographical focus and balanced by allocation directly into protective funds to reduce potentially significant losses in market downturns. Fusion Active 5 portfolio is recommended to investors with investment horizon of at least 5 to 7 years, who seek long-term returns and are prepared to accept significant risk of considerable temporary capital loss.

The portfolio is built on systematic strategic asset allocation which is expressed through actively managed funds, with the additions of occasional tactical overlays and the ability to include both thematic investments and non-traditional asset classes. It is designed for investors who are seeking better long-term performance by relying on both systematic asset allocation and the expertise of fund managers who actively manage portfolio components to combine market risk premiums with elements of market timing and individual asset selection.

Investment Principles

Fusion Active Portfolios start with the principles of Systematic Strategic Asset Allocation derived from a well-established scientific approach which is shared by all Fusion portfolios. The distinctive feature of Fusion's approach is to dynamically rebalance between return driven and risk-driven asset allocation models. This allows to maximize long term performance from diversified multi-asset portfolios within well-defined risk parameters and, at the same time, significantly reduce Portfolio Drawdown.

The Strategic Asset Allocation assumes that the markets are at fair value. Medium-term market forecasts and short-term tactical tilts are then added to account for current market trends and short-term market or economic opportunities. This active stance on the Strategic Asset Allocation is known as Tactical Asset Allocation.

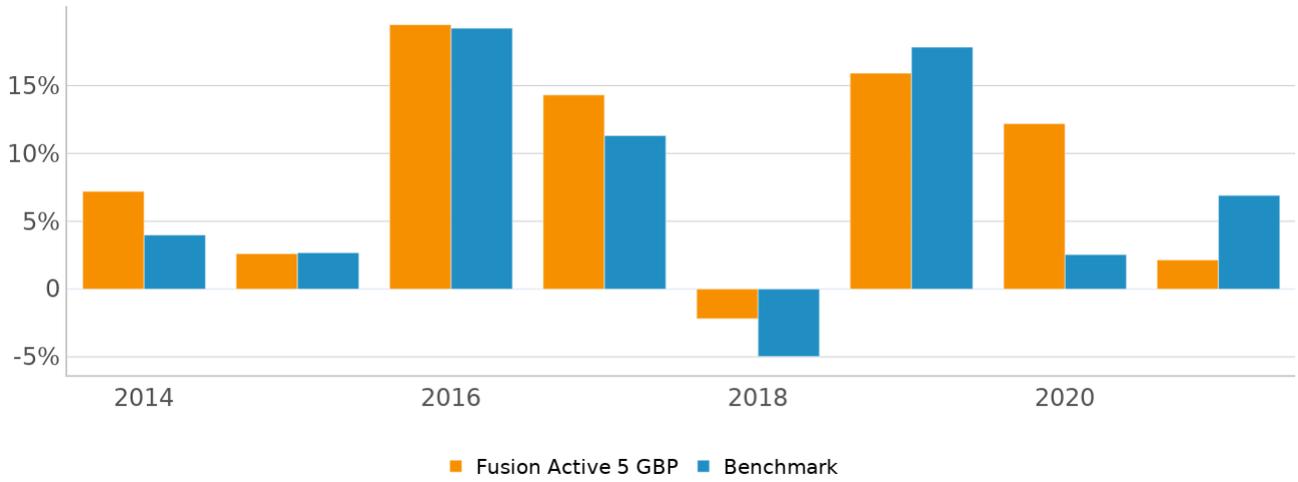

Within the Fusion Active portfolio range this Tactical Asset Allocation is implemented using, primarily, actively managed funds selected mostly from a range of well-established product providers who aim to consistently out-perform their respective benchmarks. Fusion can also, from time to time, add a small proportion of niche specialist managers to the Fusion Active portfolios to give investors access to alternative sources of uncorrelated investment returns. Purely protective funds are included into the portfolios to further strengthen performance resistance to market downturns. Manager selection and resulting portfolios are constantly monitored, re-assessed and rebalanced on quarterly basis.

A Guide to Portfolio Report

Portfolio Summary

Portfolio description gives a Portfolio overview, including the description of target investors, portfolio building approach, resulted asset allocation and recommended investment horizon.

Investment Principles

The main principles applied by test to building investment portfolios, including Strategic Asset Allocation methods and investment Component selection process applied to achieve optimal performance for a range of risk profiles.

Historical Performance

Historical performance analysis is based on applying chosen systematic Asset Allocation approach retrospectively on historical market data to determine weightings for a range of Asset Classes on an annual basis. Component selection within Asset Classes is based on matching target portfolio risk level. The prices used in historical valuations are mid-market prices for Components quoted on a stock exchange. For Components that are not quoted on a stock exchange, the valuation has been based on fair value. This is our best judgement of the price likely to be agreed between a willing buyer and willing seller, dealing on an arm's length basis, where both are in possession of all freely available information concerning those Components.

Missing prices for Components with insufficient pricing history are proxied by using corresponding data for the best suitable alternative, which the Component is reasonably assumed to track, and applying reasonable transaction costs.

Portfolio historical performance is displayed on the graphs and its statistical analysis is summarized in the tables showing Performance, Volatility and Sharpe Ratio. The graph and the statistics is shown against the corresponding Portfolio Benchmark. The historical performance is calculated on a daily basis. All Volatility figures are annualized.

All performance is gross of fees.

Portfolio Benchmark

The benchmark, which the portfolio is compared to, is built by using Asset Allocation of a well-established Index, which aims to track the performance of a representative low risk sterling-based investor's portfolio.

Portfolio Asset Allocation

This shows the various Asset Classes that the portfolio is invested in and the percentage allocated to each of them within the portfolio.

Portfolio Components

A table of Components, which the portfolio is invested in, with the proportions of the total portfolio amount and individual Components Performance, Volatility and Sharpe Ratio.

Glossary of Terms

Asset Class

An asset class is a group of securities that exhibits similar characteristics, behaves similarly in the marketplace and is subject to the same laws and regulations. The three main asset classes are equities, or stocks; fixed income, or bonds; and cash equivalents, or money market instruments. Some investment professionals add real estate and commodities, and possibly other types of investments, to the asset class mix.

Asset Allocation

The investment split between various asset classes as a percentage.

Component

A portfolio component represented either by a financial product, which can be traded between financial counterparties, or an index, which can be accurately tracked by a financial product.

Protective Component

A financial product or an index constructed to ensure significant performance increase in times of financial crisis.

Volatility

A common statistical measure used to assess the risk levels of different investments. It is an annualised figure measuring the dispersion of monthly returns around the average monthly return of that security. If a portfolio has a high volatility, this suggests a greater variation of returns.

Drawdown

Drawdown is a measure of the downside risk of a portfolio. It is peak-to-trough decline during a specific recorded period of an investment, fund or commodity. It can be applied directly to the size of the portfolio giving an estimate of how much money you could lose at some intermediate point during the life of the investment strategy. Maximum drawdown is the maximum loss from a peak to a trough of a portfolio.

Sharpe ratio

The Sharpe ratio is a risk-adjusted measure of return that is used to evaluate the performance of a portfolio. The ratio helps to make the performance of one portfolio comparable to that of another by making an adjustment for the level of risk associated with the underlying assets held within the portfolio.
