

PORTFOLIO SUMMARY

- High risk portfolio within the Optima ETF portfolio range
- Designed to provide long-term growth in line with equity dividend yield and capital market appreciation
- Suitable for investors, who understand that high return comes with increased risk of significant losses and are prepared to sustain the risk of considerable short-term capital loss to achieve long-term capital appreciation
- The objective of portfolio is to systematically capture risk premiums while minimizing investment costs. This is accomplished by employing highly liquid ETFs with low charges.

INVESTMENT PRINCIPLES

Fusion Optima portfolios aim to systematically harvest risk premiums while minimizing the costs of the investments by utilising ETFs with high liquidity and low charges. These are carefully selected from a wide range of well-established product providers, targeting outperformance of their respected benchmarks.

The range is based on systematic Strategic Asset Allocation, aiming to maximise expected long-term return within well-defined risk parameters. Medium-term market forecasts are overlaid to adjust the allocation by incorporating current market trends.

RISK SCORE

MARKET COMMENTS

June marked the end of the second quarter with another positive month for portfolio performance, with global equities rising 2.8% and bonds also rising by 0.9% in GBP terms.

Global stocks rose to fresh highs, although this was again largely driven by the US market (+4.3%), and in particular, its AI-related mega-cap names in theme which fails to dissipate. In fact, global stocks excluding the US were flat in June, as was the equal-weighted US index. Emerging markets (+4.8%) outperformed developed markets, driven by the two large semiconductor-intensive nations, Taiwan and Korea, outperforming significantly, up 13% and 9% respectively. Several developed-market central banks began their easing cycles in June, including the European Central Bank which unsurprisingly cut its deposit rate. However, this failed to have its desired effect on markets, as news of a surprise snap French election dominated headlines and fuelled uncertainty. Days after President Macron's announcement, we saw the main French index down by more than 6%, wiping out the majority of gains year to date. This risk-off sentiment was also mirrored in the bond market with the spread between the French and German 10-year government bond yields, seen as a barometer for the risk of holding France's debt, reaching its highest point since February 2017. European equities ended the period -1.7% down.

Commodity prices fell slightly in June, particularly industrial metals and agriculture, however oil rebounded by 6%, benefiting energy positions.
