INVESTMENT PRINCIPLES

Fusion ProActive Planet portfolios use a systematic Strategic Asset Allocation approach shared across Fusion Active and Fusion Optima portfolios. The goal is to maximize long-term returns while managing risk. The allocation is adjusted with medium-term market forecasts to incorporate current trends. Fusion Portfolios select components from established providers to outperform benchmarks.

In the Fusion ESG offering, the selected portfolio components are screened to ensure that they have high ESG ratings, provided by MSCI. MSCI ESG fund ratings aim to measure the resilience of funds to financially material environmental, societal and governance (ESG) risks. Where the fund is not rated by MSCI, additional third-party ratings providers are used.

MARKET COMMENTS

May saw global stocks pick up where they left off the previous month, with global equities rising 5.5%, as bonds also delivered a positive return of 1.1% (GBP terms). US equities (+6.1%) led the way within developed markets, extending the rebound from April's sharp rally. The drivers were familiar: strong earnings, resilient growth and sustained enthusiasm around artificial intelligence (AI). Technology (+10.6%) names again led from the front, though market participation has narrowed to levels not seen since the dot-com era, with AI, semiconductors and mega-cap technology doing most of the heavy lifting. It was a similar story in Asia (+11%), where exposure to the AI theme, plus stellar corporate earnings, proved a fruitful combination. Q1 2026 earnings growth was exceptional at around 40%, though also heavily concentrated in technology and semiconductors. Emerging markets (+10.6%) continued their strong momentum, led by Korea (+35.8%) and Taiwan (+17.5%) which both registered yet another exceptional month. Europe (+4.5%) was not far behind other developed markets, while the resources-heavy, tech-light UK market lagged global peers (+0.5%).

Fixed income markets experienced sharp volatility over the month, reflecting uncertainty over the growth and inflation impact of the Middle East conflict. Inflation data confirmed rising inflationary pressures in the global economy, and government bond yields spent most of May on an upwards trajectory, to such an extent that yields on US 30-year treasuries reached levels not seen since 2007. However, news of a credible attempt for an agreement between the US and Iran emerged towards the end of the month, helping bonds to stage a late rally on optimism that the conflict's end is in sight.
